

2018 Thanksgiving Missive from Paul A. Stewart

My final Thanksgiving Missive ... at least for now ...

“To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven ...”
(Ecclesiastes 3:1, King James Version).

For nearly 25 years, I have sent an annual Thanksgiving Missive email to my family, friends and business connections around the world. Over the years, I've shared what I learned from personal & professional experiences; I've shared some articles that I thought were especially worth reading; and I've shared life stories and, occasionally, some personal philosophy.

My little business continues to thrive and I plan to continue my PASCO work for as long as I enjoy it as much as I do now. That said, as Susan and I settle into our retirement years, we are letting things go to make room for new things, and the time has come for this to be my last Thanksgiving Missive ... at least for the next several years.

We are enjoying newly-discovered “discretionary time.” In this wonderful season of our lives, we have ample time ... to ski on fresh snow, to bike, and to hike ... to laugh, to love, and to worship ... to have many “everyday moments” of special time with our two grown sons who live here in Denver ... and to be able to have Luna, our “grand-dog”, stay with us at Camp Grandma and Grandpa.

We are grateful for our health, our family, our time together and our friends – the “old” and the “new.” As the U.S. Thanksgiving holiday approaches this Thursday, my warmest wishes to you and those you love for the upcoming holiday season. May you have a healthy, peaceful and prosperous 2019, and thank you to those of you who have read my Thanksgiving Missives over many years.

All the best.

PAS.
